INAUGURAL ADDRESS
OF
HON. E. S. FAY, MAYOR,
AUGUST 12th, 1890.

---

GENTLEMEN OF THE CITY COUNCILS :

In entering upon the discharge of my official duties for another year, I cannot refrain from expressing a feeling of satisfaction that my course during the past year has met with the approval of a majority of my fellow citizens, as they have shown by electing me for a second term. And I desire to assure them that in the future as well as in the past, should any of them differ with me in regard to questions of public welfare, I shall have no pride of opinion, but shall be glad to take counsel and advice from any citizen, be he the humblest or the highest, to the end that such a course shall be adopted as will promote the best interest of all

WATER.

The most important question before our citizens which agitates the public mind is, whether the city of Portsmouth shall own and control the water supply, and be able to furnish pure water to all the inhabitants at fair rates, or whether, while almost every other city in the country owns its water works, Portsmouth alone shall go on as it has for years, without any supply of its own,—at the mercy of private corporations, and liable at any time to have ruinous terms for water dictated by powerful syndicates, with no alternative but submission.

My opinions upon the question are well known, and I have frequently and publicly stated the reasons which have induced me to form these opinions, so that they are well known to you and require no extended mention here.

I am heartily in favor of purchasing the property of the Portsmouth Aqueduct company at the price at which it is offered—$150,000—which I consider a fair price and no more than this valuable and remunerative property is justly worth. I therefore recommend that you take such steps as will insure the possession of this property by the city at a date as early as possible.

PORTSMOUTH AND DOVER RAILROAD.

The recommendation made by me in August last, that the city sell from time to time the stock of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, having been favorably received by the city councils, one thousand shares of this stock were sold, and with the proceeds six per cent bonds to the amount of $110,500 were retired. This operation was considered so favorable to the city that seven hundred and twenty shares more have been sold and from the proceeds six per cent bonds to the amount of $16,000 have been retired, and the balance of the proceeds, amounting to $69,666.63, has been placed on interest to the credit of the city awaiting the further purchase of such bonds.

At the present time the city owns 1820 shares of stock in the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, worth nearly or quite $210,000, and adding the above amount of cash already received and on hand, $69,666.63, we have $279,666.63 with which to pay bonds issued to purchase this stock and now outstanding of $217,500, so that when this stock has been wholly sold and all the bonds retired, the city will net a handsome profit by the operation.

CITY DEBT.

The bonded indebtedness of the city, exclusive of the bonds above named, amounts to $192,500, no part of which falls due during our term of office.

The increase in this indebtedness arises, as you know, from the bonds issued in November last, to the amount of $57,000 for the erection of two new school houses. But as none of these bonds have a greater rate of interest than four per cent, the amount of the annual interest paid by the city differs but little from that heretofore paid when a large part of the indebtedness was bearing six per cent. In the above statement I have not taken into account the cash in the city treasury and some minor assets available as cash at any time, a part of which as well as the profits already made on the stock of the Portsmouth and Dover railroad might properly be considered in arriving at an exact statement of the net city debt, while the city has other property, real and personal, standing upon the city books at the valuation of $214,711. But the above figures will show you that, considering the large expense incurred all in one year for the new schoolhouses, the financial condition of the city is excellent.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSES.

The new school houses, which have been so long needed, and which all our citizens hope will meet the long-felt want of all friends of the common school in our city, are nearly completed. The amounts realized from the total appropriations for these buildings was . . . . . $75,606 84
There has been spent up to Aug. 8th, inst., the sum of 61,831 28

Leaving a balance of . . . . .	$13,775 56
From which there will be required to pay building
contractors . . . . .	$10,795 00
And heating contractors . . . . .	1,500 00	12,295 00

Leaving a balance of . . . . . $1,480 58
which will probably be sufficient to cover all the small incidental expenses required to complete these structures.

APPROPRIATIONS.

You will find that the condition of the various ordinary appropriations for the city expenses for the current year will compare favorably with that of previous years, and excepting the appropriations for city lands and buildings, you will find funds in the city treasury to the credit of these appropriations, sufficient for the present want. It will be necessary, however, to make an additional appropriation to cover the expense of repairs upon the city hall now nearly completed, as the funds available for that purpose have been exhausted. A new highway has recently been laid out from a point on Pleasant street near the Universalist meeting house, across the South pond, along Langdon park to the South road, and, in order to build it, you will find it necessary to make the required appropriations. The advantages of this road will seem to be apparent to all, and I recommend that you provide the necessary funds to complete it.

STREETS.

Our streets are not in such good condition as they should be, but so long as the Street Department is burdened with the labor and expense of removing twice each week the ashes and refuse from the premises of all the inhabitants of the city, it will be impossible to improve them as a whole with an appropriation of the amount usually made for this purpose. In fact an appropriation of double the sum usually made could profitably be expended. Of the $14,000.00 appropriated for the streets the current year a little over $8,000 has been expended.

Of the $2500 appropriated for sidewalks, less than $1700 has been expended. But the balance of these appropriations will only be sufficient for the ordinary expenses of these departments during the remainder of the year. I would suggest that you take this question of what is best for our streets into serious consideration and carefully investigate it and ascertain what can be done to better their condition without increasing too much the burdens of the tax-payers.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The fire department, upon which we are all so dependent for protection to life and property, is the most important object of our care, and should be liberally dealt with. Its efficiency should never be impaired for the want of suitable apparatus to enable it to work successfully. Nothing will enliven courage and spirit into the department so much as well equipped apparatus in which the firemen take pride, and nothing will so discourage and destroy their interest as old and unsatisfactory apparatus not fitted for the work required. I am pleased to say that at present I believe this department to be in a high state of efficiency, and on the whole as good as that of any other city in the country where high water service does not exist. During the past year steamer Sagamore, No. 1, has been repaired and rebuilt at an expense of $3,300, so that it is better than when new. Two new hose-carriages have been purchased and a new reservoir built on Richards avenue. Other minor improvements and additions have been made and some more which will come to your attention from time to time will be found necessary. But it seems to me at this time some measures should be taken to give better fire protection to the people and large property interests at the west end of the city, in the vicinity of the shoe factory. This section of the city is rapidly growing, and manufacturing industries upon which we are largely dependent are located there. In case of fire there, much valuable time is lost in hauling the engines, and in the winter time should the streets be drifted with snow, no one can estimate the damage that might be done before the fire apparatus could be drawn to the spot. The safety of the whole city would be endangered, and, in any event, the damage from such a fire might be far reaching and destructive to the industrial interests of this community. I feel it my duty to strongly recommend that immediate action be taken by you before the coming winter in this matter, and that a steam fire engine be located in that part of the city, which might be manned by firemen residing there, so that no unnecessary time be lost in case of fire. I think we owe it as a duty to that section of the city to see that it is not left utterly defenceless against the devouring element.

CITY FARM.

Under an ordinance passed by the city councils, the lots of land which had been heretofore laid out from a part of the city farm were ordered to be sold at auction, and thirty five lots were sold for the sum of $6,658.00 in June last. The result of this sale is so satisfactory that it would seem to be wise to lay out more lots in that vicinity and sell them. In this way not only the city obtains funds to meet its indebtedness from the property now unproductive and yielding no income, but the taxable property of the city will be increased. It was also voted to erect a suitable home for the poor and sell the old almshouse, but the proposals for erecting the new house were so high that they were rejected and no further progress has been made. If an almshouse is necessary in your judgement, I would suggest whether it would not be better now to see if the old building can not be remodelled and repaired at a reasonable cost, so as to be suitable and thereby the expense of a new building saved and the land reserved for it sold with the other lots.

POLICE.

It cannot be too often repeated or too strongly emphasized that the police force should be composed of active men, of good habits and possessed of cool heads and sound common sense. Without these qualifications no man on the force can be a good officer; with them he cannot be anything else. It is currently reported and generally understood that there is to be a sweeping change in the membership of the force. In their selection I have no voice, but I have the right, as the chief executive officer of the city, and as a citizen, to insist that if a change is made, every member of the new force shall answer the requirements above named.

CONCLUSION.

In submitting these crude statements and suggestions, I am aware that the condition of the affairs of the city and its wants have been only partially and imperfectly set forth. I have merely attempted to call your attention to a few of what seemed to me the most important subjects, which interest you or upon which you will be called to act. When others arise, I shall not hesitate to give you my views upon them, though I have no power excepting such as you give me. We have been elected to the offices we have today assumed, by different political parties, but in consultation together as citizens to promote the common welfare, I trust parties will be forgotten and politics will have no place. The only motive which should control us in the performance of our official duties should be to do that which shall be for the greatest good to the greatest number, and to this I pledge my best efforts.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER.

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

GENTLEMEN:—In compliance with my duties as Chief Engineer, I have the honor to submit to you a report of the condition of the Fire Department, and lay before you a statement of the property belonging to the department, a roster of the members, a list of the fires and alarms during the past year, the location and capacity of the reservoirs, and the expenses incurred in running the department for the year ending December 31st, 1890.

MEMBERSHIP.

The roster of the department contains 126 members, all active and efficient men, and have proved themselves ever ready and prompt to the call of duty.

APPARATUS AND HOUSES.

The apparatus consists of three steam fire engines with hose wagons attached; one steamer on reserve; one hook and ladder truck; two small chemical engines; supply wagon; two horse hose carriages and two sleighs.

Steamer Sagamore No. 1, built by the Portland Company, put into service in 1864, rebuilt by the Manchester Locomotive Works in 1889, is in good working order, being kept on the reserve, but is ready for instant use when needed. Col. Sise steamer No. 2, located on Court street, was built by the Manchester Locomotive Works, and put into service in 1879. During the year this steamer was sent to Manchester and thoroughly repaired, and is now in as fine and reliable condition as ever.

Kearsarge steamer No. 3, located on Court street, near the Court house, was built by the Amoskeag Company of Manchester and put into service in 1870. A new boiler was put in 1878, and again this past year the boiler being declared to be worn and unsafe, the steamer was sent to Manchester and thoroughly overhauled and repaired, a new boiler being put in. This steamer is now also in good and reliable condition.

Moses H. Goodrich steamer No. 4, located in Hanover street, was built by B. S. Nichols & Co. of Burlington, Vt., and put into service in 1876. Rebuilt by Critchley & Walley in 1879, and received a new boiler in 1887. This steamer is in good repair otherwise than the boiler, and with a boiler in good order would be one of the most serviceable engines in the department. As it is now, it requires 12 or 13 minutes to produce 10 pounds of steam. I think it would be a very judicious matter to have this steamer attended to.

The Hook and Ladder Truck is in a bad and unreliable condition, and is not strong enough to carry the necessary number of the proper ladders that are generally required at a common fire. The ladders belonging to the truck are too narrow, and are not considered strong enough for ordinary use. I would recommend the purchase of a new truck. A new truck of more modern and stronger make can be bought for about one half what the present one cost.

The new Chemical Engine, lately purchased by order of the city councils, will add greatly to the efficiency of the department as well as lessen somewhat the running expenses, as it will dispense with one company, and cost less to keep in repair than the two small chemicals. On the arrival of the new one, I would recommend that the present Extinguisher No. 5 be placed at the Jones' Brewery to be cared for without expense to the city, and that Extinguisher No. 6 be placed at the Portsmouth Shoe Factory, upon the same conditions.

For the carrying of hose, we have four hose wagons, four hose carriages, and two sleighs. The two new wagons belonging to steamers Nos. 2 and 3 have been stored away and the two old reels have again been put in use, as these wagons are too heavy for use, the weight of each one being about 2000 pounds when empty. These wagons are of first class make in every respect, but are too heavy for our use, and I would recommend they be sold, and lighter ones procured, similar in weight to the one attached to steamer No. 4, which weighs not over 1400 lbs.

As these wagons are new and are well adapted to many other cities, where a smaller amount of hose is carried, and a smaller district to control, I feel assured that a change could be made of advantage to the department, and without much expense to the city. We have also two hose carriages at present stored at the city farm, which we have no use for, and could be sold.

HOSE.

There are about 7500 feet of American jacket hose, and 1000 feet Keystone cotton hose, all in good and reliable condition. I would urgently recommend the purchase of 2000 feet more of cotton hose as soon as possible, for should there happen to be a fire of any magnitude whatever, and any of our hose get frozen up or disabled in any manner, we would be unable to replace it.

HOUSES.

Engine house No. 2, having been recently thoroughly repaired and fitted up in more modern style, is in good condition.

Engine house No. 3, will need more or less repairs the coming year. But in the event of a new court house being built in this city and the present one dispensed with, I would most earnestly recommend that a modern building be constructed on this location, large enough to contain two steamers if need be, the hook and ladder truck, a chemical engine, supply wagon and any other spare apparatus that might be convenient to have at hand. This would be an excellent site for such a building above mentioned; everything could be made convenient, horses would be kept at hand, there would be ample room for the drivers and such others as might at any time be put on duty. The fuel used for heating purposes would also go far towards running an engine to perform city work, such as running the stone crusher, sawing wood, and have the power to blow the fire alarm gong, which costs the city several hundred dollars annually to do outside.

A great improvement has been made on Hanover street by the remodelling of the building formerly used as a school house, into an engine house.

The fitting up of this engine house will afford greatly improved quarters for steamer No. 4, and greatly add to the facilities of the department, and tends to add greater protection to the whole nothern section of our city.

A petition from citizens and taxpayers of the west end of our city, asking for the locating of an engine in that section has, I think, been brought before your board some time during the past year, and I would recommend that when practicable steamer No. 1 be located some where in the vicinity of the Dover street reservoir.

WATER SUPPLY.

Several improvements have been made the past year in affording us better facilities for water. The laying of a larger pipe to the reservoir on Market Square will give us now all the water we should probably ever need, thereby adding greatly to the protection of property in the most valuable portion of the city. Improvements have also been made at the Dover street reservoir, whereby three steamers can now obtain water there at the same time, instead of only one at a time as before.

The Madison street reservoir is in a bad, unsafe condition, and needs re-covering. As soon as the weather will permit, I would recommend that the reservoir on Haymarket Square be connected with the water main with a five inch pipe instead of an inch and a half as at present. A larger pipe is needed also at the Pleasant stree reservoir. Our salt water reservoirs are all of them unreliable.

In event of the city controlling the water works in the near future, many improvements could of course be made at a nominal cost. Although we have a large water front on the river, the bad condition of many of the wharves makes it difficult to find a safe place to put a steamer.

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH.

This modern and important branch of the department has been called into use more frequently the past year than in any previous year of its existence here, and though it has in a few instances failed to fulfill its mission, yet it has become indispensable to the department. The only trouble was either the breaking down of the wire, or a ground made by coming into contact with the trees or with other wires. By carefully changing and rebuilding the line where needed, I feel assured it will work all right. I would recommend that some arrangement be made to provide a better alarm at the west end, as the alarm in that section is wholly insufficient. One box [No. 51] has been added the past year, and located corner of Market and Bow streets.

ANNUAL PARADE.

The fourth annual parade took place on September 9th, and with the hearty co-operation of the committee on fire department, and the great zeal displayed by the members of the department, it proved a grand success, enjoyed alike by the firemen and the citizens, and I will venture to say that in no other direction could the same amount of money be expended that would be more conducive to the better discipline and efficiency of the department. It awakens a lively interest in the department by the citizens as well as the firemen, as it gives them a chance at least once in every year to inspect the whole department and note what, if any, improvements have been made during the year.

FIRES AND ALARMS.

During the year there were 27 fires, at three of which no alarm was sounded, the location of all three being on Banfield road, and out of reach of any assistance from the department.

The loss from fires the past year as well as could be estimated was about $ 23,730 as will be seen in the appended list; the origin of several of the fires was incendiary. The Board of Engineers in each case made a thorough investigation (which they are now required to do by an act past by the legislature of 1889) as to the cause and all the circumstances attending it, and though they were satisfied it was the work of an incendiary, yet no clue could be obtained pointing to the guilty party.

EXPENDITURES.

The amount expended during the year for all purposes was $14,168. This sum includes the amount paid for two new hose wagons; the bills of the Manchester Locomotive Works for repairs on steamer No. 2; the laying of the new 8 inch pipe from the State St. main to reservoir on Market Square, and pay rolls amounting to about $7,000. The balance, about the usual sum, being expended for the regular contingent and running expenses of the department.

CONCLUSION.

In concluding, I desire only to speak of one other matter, that of affording better light by night, at Nos. 2 and 3 engine houses. As it is at present more time is used in hitching up than is necessary, and much time could be saved, and the situation greatly improved, by the placing of electric lights to burn all night at both places. Further, I desire to express my thanks to his honor the mayor, and the city councils, for their earnest support in promoting the efficiency of the department; to the officers of the police department, their aid always willingly rendered when required; and to the officers and members of the fire department for their support, and the prompt manner in which they have always preformed their duties.

JAMES F. SHANNON, CHIEF ENGINEER.

SCHOOL SIGNALS.

Two blows repeated three times at 8 A. M., no morning session; the same signal at 11.30 A. M., or 1.30 P. M., no afternoon session.

NAVY YARD SIGNALS.

In case assistance is needed from navy yard, six whistles will be blown from Electric Light Station, and repeated twice.

When assistance is needed on the navy yard, the signal by day will be two guns from the battery; by night two guns from the battery and two rockets. One gun being a signal for Kittery.

In all cases when assistance from the Portsmouth Fire Department is called for, from any place outside of the city, Box 58 will be rung in.

DIRECTIONS.

All alarms will be sounded from the North church bell, the steam gong at Electric Light Station, also the whistle at Eldredge's brewery, and repeated three times.

TESTING THE APPARATUS.

On the first of every month, all the apparatus will be tested and inspected, one round on the several boxes being rung in.

Alarms are to be given from the box nearest the fire.

Open the box and pull the hook all the way down, once, and let go

After giving the alarm, remain by the box, if possible, so as to direct the firemen to the exact locality of the fire.

Second alarm for same fire will be given only by one of the engineers.

Never open the box or touch the apparatus except in case of fire.

Never sound the alarm for a fire seen at a distance; be reasonably sure there is a fire before sounding the alarm.

Never let the key go out of your possession, except to some responsible person, to give an alarm of fire; and be sure the key is returned.

The key cannot be taken from the box except by an engineer.

If you remove from your house or place of business, return the key to any member of the board of engineers.

All citizens are requested to inform themselves where keys to the boxes are kept.

When an alarm of fire is given, all the companies not responding will remain at their respective houses thirty minutes, unless dismissed by telegraph signal, which is as follows:

Three blows signify that the fire is under control, and companies not in attendance will be dismissed.

Cambridge time will be struck each day at 12.30 on the bell of the North church, from W. I. Trafton's jewelry store. One stroke at any other time means nothing.

usual number of complaints and warrants have been issued and prosecuted.

Respectfully submitted,

S. W. EMERY, City Solicitor.

Report of the Police Commissioners.

---

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Portsmouth.

The Police Commissioners respectfully report that in view of the recent change in the management of the police, whereby commissioners have control of this important department there is not much that could be expected said; but your commissioners are of the decided opinion that good results have been obtained.

The system which formerly existed of removing on the advent of a new city government, (especially when the political affiliations of the city council were changed,) every officer, we do not think is for the benefit of the city. When good, sober, intelligent officers are in, it would seem wise policy they should be retained, for the efficiency of the service depends on experience, and attention to details. Long service is essential so that the ways of the classes who come in contact with this department, should be studied and kept track of. We found the whole system in vogue, in a completely demoralized condition, and the custom which was followed out at the commencement of the year in a great measure of removals, was not what should be in a city of the size of ours. The officers were with two or three exceptions all new men and had a great deal to learn.

For years there had been no regulations of any account that we could find existed, and although the rules adopted for the government of the police (and printed at that) requiring a copy to be always in the possession of each officer, yet only one copy could be found for the entire board of police. The department was equally deficient in necessary badges and other police equipments. Each man had been obliged to provide his own revolver, and while some had these articles almost of the size of a gatling gun, others had them fully as effective as a 4th of July toy pistol, and perhaps not as deadly ; while for practice in the use of such, which certainly should be part of the duty of an officer, (for no one can tell when his life might depend on it,) it was never required, and a cat would require to be as large as an elephant and as slow in its movements, or its life would be as long as any of the Ancient Patriarchs ere its existence would be terminated at the hands of a policeman. The officers are now provided with regular police revolvers, as city property, and are required to become proficient in their use by practice.

The badge of the city marshal even did not belong to the city, it having been borrowed from an ex-city marshal and handed down from one to the other. We expended the sum of $ 3.50 so the city could enjoy the privilege of owning one. Equipment for parade duty the city was equally deficient, and when such were needed our sister cities were called on to borrow from.

Not much attention had been paid to the regulations of the city that all officers should be uniformed when on duty, and the absence of such was a great inconvenience to strangers who might require the services of an officer at any moment.

The Police Commissioners have remedied this, as officers are required to be in regulation uniform at all times, except when ordered on special duty. A new system has been required where each officer is obliged to make a report of all he sees or hears on his beat, (and the latter has been made a permanent one) so that the officer assigned to such, will become familiar with every portion of the premises under his supervision. This record is kept by the captain of the watch. The roundsman is sent each night on special duty, and reports as often as required by the captain of the watch. One of his duties is to make a written report of when and where he meets the regular night police on their beats. All these reports go to the city marshal in the morning, so that he can then have before him a complete synopsis of all transpiring during the night. Patrol duty has been established during the day, and the three day officers are required to have completely covered the city during the time they are on duty.

The Sunday ordinance has been enforced by the marshal, so that the number of arrests on Sunday has been only ten from August 1890 to Jan'y. 1, 1891 against 25 for the same period in the year preceeding.

The 11 o'clock ordinance for closing which at first created a great deal of friction, has now proved so popular by its experience, that those who bitterly opposed it, are now as much opposed to anything that would re-instate the old system of keeping open 'till morning for the accommodation of bums, whose expenditures hardly paid for light and fuel.

The ancient practice of the police taking a pole and turning off the street lights should be abolished. It is of course true tho officer is on his beat, but how easy it is for any evil disposed person to watch when the officer makes his rounds at eleven o'clock, which is the hour designated for turning off lights, to follow the officer as he extinguishes them, and thus learn the exact locality and route he follows night after night, and the officer of no avail for the services in which he is employed, by reason of thus being occupied and giving away of his exact locality.

Our city covers now quite an extent of territory, and especially at the creek, (a mile or more from the station.) One officer is stationed at that locality who does not report at all during the night at the station, by reason of too great a distance to travel, and leaving his beat uncovered.

Arrangements have been made of a crude nature, whereby the telephone at the Brewery or Shoe Factory can be used to communicate with the station, but it is with great loss of time as the Brewery and Shoe Factory offices are some distance in from the street, and consume much time in reaching, when perhaps time is of the greatest importance. The police electric signal which is being used in quite a number of cities, we think could be made of valuable service by placing one at the Creek; one at the upper end of Market Street; and one on Water Street, which would afford instant communication with the station, as well as for the latter to communicate with each officer and give instructions from the central station which is the source of information and direction, and the fire alarm wires can be used for that purpose at a small expense. A small station house should be arranged at the Creek for temporary use, in the detention of prisoners, as it is quite a distance to carry intoxicated persons a mile by one officer; who thus leaves his beat at the mercy of the world while thus occupied.

The distribution of hand bills and dodgers about the streets is a nuisance. Before the advent of a newspaper, or when the cost of same was great, such mode of advertising was perhaps justified; but when we have morning and evening editions which can be purchased for a mere song and so many of them issued daily, it would seem no need for the dodger nuisance to exist. Another benefit would also ensue, that if people who do not take newspapers could not find out where bargains were being given, amusements held, etc. except by newspapers, they would be obliged to buy, and the habit would be beneficial, as the newspaper would then become an educator in the family. An ordinance should be passed to prevent it.

As regards the working of the Board of Police Commissioners the result seems to have been a success. It brings the personal of the police force directly under the supervision of the several members of which it is constituted, and if occasion demands the officer can be spoken to and any matters of inattention at once remedied without resource to the full board of mayor and aldermen by which course much notoriety is avoided, and personal unpleasantness prevented, as when a member is brought before the latter, the officer's friends intervene, and all sorts of political and private pressure brought to bear on such an official body.

Removing snow from the side-walks is a source of much trouble to the police department, who are specially charged with the enforcement of this duty. The day police are instructed to serve a notice on each person who does not clean the side-walk attached to his premises. This having the side-walks cleaned is a matter in which all citizens are concerned, and is one that should be the pride of an occupant to keep clean. Everybody is pecuniary interested as well, for if accidents occur, claims are at once made and large amounts are paid each year for this cause while each citizen is compelled to pay his share of this expense, which is no small sum.

The business brought before the Board of Commissioners so far has been always decided with great unanimity, notwithstanding the fact that the board is composed of both political parties as represented in the city councils.

It would seem a wise course now that the board is an established fact that it should be continued by some act of the legislature, and that the police officers should not be subject to the mutations of politics, but should be retained as long as their services are of such a nature as to be effective for the city's benefit. It takes time and experience to make an effective force, and such can only be obtained when men who take the position feel that conscientious duty is what will retain them in the positions, then there will be more effort to work for the public good. All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF INSTRUCTION

1891.

To the Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen:—

The Board of Instruction present the Report of the Superintendent of Schools as substantially the expression of their own views concerning the matters so carefully treated therein, and would offer but a brief preface to that Report.

The Board would particularly urge citizens to make a personal inspection of the City Schools, and of the methods of teaching now prevailing there. No one who is not familiar with these modern methods, can at all realize their vast superiority in point of attractiveness and of adaptation to the pupil's mind over those which obtained until within a comparatively recent period. It is especially interesting to observe the teaching in the primary departments, and its success with the youngest pupils. Parents who have children in the public schools ought certainly to take pains to acquaint themselves with the admirable system of instruction which is carried on under the capable oversight of the Superintendent. An occasional visit would convince them that the schools are in a most satisfactory condition—well-equipped and efficiently managed.

Attention is called to those portions of the Superintendent's Report, which deal with the new system of teaching Book-keeping, and with the condition of the Training School. The former is an excellent instance of the ingenious and practical character of modern teaching. The Report as a whole is well worth a careful perusal, and as such is commended to the intelligent citizen.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

---

To the Board of Instruction, Portsmouth, N. H.,

GENTLEMEN :—I have the honor to present herewith my fifth annual report as Superintendent of Schools,

The opening of the fall term was postponed from Sept. 1 to Sept. 8, thereby reducing the number of weeks from forty to thirty-nine, during the year 1890. I desire once more to call your attention to the great difference between the nominal length of our school year, forty weeks, and the time the schools are actually in session, and, for this purpose, the actual time of each school has been tabulated in the tables of the appendix.

Those schools in session the longest time were open thirty-seven weeks, and the opposite extreme was thirty-five and two-fifths weeks. The tendency of the times to introduce more holidays will inevitably keep our school year not far from thirty-seven weeks, and careful investigation should be given to each request for an additional holiday, lest our term of school be even more abridged than now. The average length of the terms of all the schools was thirty-six and four-tenths weeks. For 1889 the average was thirty-six and seven-tenths.

Your attention is called to the increase in the enrollment during the fall term. The spring term closed in June with an enrollment of 1054, and 89 per cent. of attendance. In September we had 1152 enrolled, and 93 per cent. of attendance. This increase is undoubtedly due to the better accommodations provided in the new buildings. The number of new admissions, during the year shows considerable increase over previous years.

New pupils admitted	1890	281
" " "	1889	224
" " "	1888	160

The irregularities of attendance, tardinesses and dismissions show considerable diminution. The list of these for the last ten years is given below.

Year.	Number of Tardinesses.	Number of Dismissions.
1890	1,510	1,331
1889	2,014	1,645
1888	3,745	2,134
1887	4,821	1,638
1886	5,495	1,742
1885	8,044	2,012
1884	7,593	2,285
1883	7,010	1,954
1882	8,523	2,678
1881	7,225	2,649

Corporal punishment has not entirely disappeared from our schools, but there has been a slight gain the last year, and, looking back five years, we see a tremendous improvement in our methods of discipline. From the reports of the sixty cases last year we are led to believe that fully one-third were unnecessary, and for trivilities. Below is the list of the number of punishments for the last five years.

1890	-	-	-	60	punishments
1889	-	-	-	62	"
1888	-	-	-	97	"
1887	-	-	-	270	"
1886	-	-	-	654	"

The sixty cases in 1890 were distributed as follows :

District I,	average enrollment	308 pupils	9 cases
" II,	"	412	" 14 "
" III,	"	253	" 37 "

The following is the distribution of pupils by grades.

Grade		Number enrolled.	Average age
I, Primary		150	6.2 years.
" II,	"	126	7.8 "
" III,	"	110	9.5 "

" Grade IV, Primary	147	10.6 years
" V, Intermediate	86	11.2 "
" VI, "	95	11.5 "
" VII, Grammar	83	12.7 "
" VIII, "	74	13.5 "
" IX, "	65	14.4 "
" X, High	63	15.2 "
" XI, "	41	15.8 "
" XII, "	31	15.7 "
" XIII, "	14	17.2 "

The receipts from the tuition of non-resident pupils have been larger this year than ever before. The number attending has been thirty-two, from the towns of Newington, Greenland, Rye and New Castle, N. H., and Kittery, Eliot and York, Me.

The receipts from tuition have been,

1890	$455.75.
1889	303.95.
1888	213.50.
1887	133.50.
1886	24.00.

All the teachers of the Walker and Peabody schools were transferred to the new Farragut building in September, and those of the Cabot Street and Jones schools to the new Whipple.

The greatest event in the school history of the city for many years has been the abandonment of the five old buildings, the Peabody, Cabot Street, Jones, Walker, and Bartlett, and the occupying the two new buildings named the Whipple and Farragut. The fourteen rooms in these new houses are occupied, and the schools are of ordinary size, except the primary grades of the Whipple, which have a few more than the seating capacity.

An overflow room will have to be provided in the spring for the lowest grade, either in the old Cabot Street building, or by utilizing the anteroom on the second floor now used for the sewing lessons. This latter room is capable of holding twenty or twenty-five pupils.

One of the greatest evils of the graded system is the tendency to place too large a number of pupils in charge of one teacher. This is a great mistake, as it prevents individual instruction. The teaching of a class as a whole can never produce the best results. It is only when the teacher knows the needs of each and every pupil, and can base her instruction upon these, that we look for the true school work. A class of fifty is so large as to compel the teacher to handle them as a whole, and prevent her giving that particular attention to the requirements of each so necessary to their advancement. Forty pupils properly taught will furnish all the work one teacher can possibly do. Add more to the number, and more class teaching and less individual work must result. As the time spent by the average child in school is very short, our endeavor should be to train him as thoroughly as possible, to strengthen his weak places, and to give him as much instruction as he can receive. If we take forty as the number of pupils to a teacher of a one-grade room, a two-grade room should not have above thirty-five, and a school having more than two grades ought not to have over twenty-five or thirty pupils. The tendency everywhere at present seems to be to decrease the number of pupils to a teacher, and no mistaken notion of economy should allow us to retard a child's progress by placing him in a crowded room.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

At the time of writing the last report the Training School was without a principal, but, after continuing five months without a head, Miss Jessie F. Emery of the Pawtucket, R. I. Training School, a graduate of the Framingham, Mass. Normal School, (four years course,) was engaged, and entered upon her duties February 1.

It is no easy task with the large number of children and the small force of pupil teachers to do the required teaching of the former, and the normal work of the latter. The first must be done, and the second if it can be. Our corps of pupil teachers is still too small, but unless we suffer another break in our work, like the gap between the resignation of Miss Stuart and the appointment of her successor, we may expect larger numbers. There have been only three in the class of '91, and one of these withdrew at the close of the winter term in March, leaving two who will continue in the school till their graduation. The two members of the class of '90, continued their course beyond the required year and a half, and remained with us till June, completing a full two years training.

It seems to me that the benefits derived from a longer stay in the school would justify the Board in extending the course from one and a half to two years.

Five young ladies entered in September, giving us a force of seven pupil teachers. Although this number is not sufficient to carry on the work to the best advantage, still, with the aid of an assistant, we have been able to attain a good measure of success.

A list of graduates of the school is given below.

Mr. C. H. Morss, Superintendent of Schools.

DEAR SIR :—In accordance with your request, the following report of the Portsmouth Training School is submitted:

During the first half of the school year, beginning September 1889, the work at the Cabot street school was conducted by former graduates of the Training School, aided by the members of the senior class.

The efficient manner in which the large number of children in the building was cared for, was creditable, not only to the former principal, Miss Stuart, but also to the earnest spirit and enthusiasm of the young ladies employed.

In January, Emma F. Riley, who had previously taught, was admitted to the junior class of pupil teachers, making its number three. Alice M. Berry resigned in March to accept an appointment as teacher in one of the schools of Greenland. A few weeks later, Miss Riley was transferred temporarily to the Plains School. Owing to this reduction in our teaching force, and the entrance of a large class in the lowest room in April, Misses Ferguson, Seavey and Farrington were retained as assistants. During the last three months, the seniors have been in a measure responsible for the development of the children placed under their charge. Their normal work has included a study of Quincy methods, and Psychology. Previous work with the Superintendent included the School Laws of New Hampshire, and the History of Education.

At present, the junior class numbers five. Its members have had an opportunity of observing, to some extent, the methods of work in each grade of the primary department.

The over-crowded condition of our rooms, compelled the necessity of assigning to juniors, the care of regular classes much earlier, than is practicable for the best efforts of either pupils or pupil teachers. Since the resignation of Miss Ferguson in November, two of the juniors have done more than well, in caring for the children of the first grade. In normal work the class has devoted one period each day to the study of Psychology and the discussion of methods.

Believing that a most important aim in educating those who are to become teachers, lies in guiding and developing individual power, we have endeavored to meet the needs of all, helping each to preserve her own personality in her work, and to grow daily more self-reliant. Every effort in discerning and using opportunities and material about has been encouraged. Thus, many charts and other original helps for illustration have been developed for use in our schools. Since we consider the building of character the highest object to be sought for the youth in our community, much individual attention has been given to the prevention and correction of evil habits among the children.

The decrease in tardiness has been marked. A case of truancy seldom exists to be reported. This is largely the result of direct appeal to parents, and the interest in the work which we have labored to arouse in the homes of the pupils. It gives us pleasure to acknowledge the courteous treatment and hearty cooperation which we have received in this way, and also by the frequent visits to our school rooms. The advancement made by the children during the past year has been somewhat retarded by crowded classes. However we have reached the average, and, in some departments, considering numbers and the inexperience of our teachers, gone beyond it. One feature of our work has been a rapid gain in the writing. This has resulted from earnest efforts to second our efficient teacher, Mr. Montgomery, our plan having been to aid his work by making every written lesson throughout the week a special lesson in writing, and accepting only the best efforts of the children.

FREE TEXT-BOOKS.

The free text-book law went into successful operation Jan. 1, and with this, its first year, we have every reason to feel satisfied.

It is as yet too early to see or to prophesy what its defects may be, but, so far, we discover none.

There has been an increase of over twelve per cent. in the number of pupils in the High School, a part of which is undoubtedly to be attributed to the operations of this law.

The cost of the books for primary and grammar grades was $1878.39 and for the High School $1065.24. For 1891 the necessary outlay for books and supplies will probably be about $3000.

It is the policy of the Board not to hamper the work of the schools by a too scanty supply of material. Everything needful has been supplied promptly, and without niggardliness, and, as a result, our schools show much better results in their work than when we were obliged to await the pleasure of parents for furnishing the necessities of the school room.

READING.

The ability to understand written language lies at the basis of all good schoolroom work, and this power is developed through reading. Reading then becomes our most important branch of study.

The first aim in reading is to get the thought. In oral reading, the order is first the thought, then the expression of that thought, but thought first. We all have memories of former schools in which oral expression was the sole aim, the teachers never probing beneath the surface to find if the comprehension was the same as the expression. It is not a difficult thing to teach the mechanical rules of oral reading, so that a pupil will seem to read intelligently thoughts of which he has no understanding, which are to him a foreign language—but such teachers do not teach reading, only word naming in an orderly manner, much as they would teach a parrot to talk.

The true teacher will first take pains to find out if the thought is present, and with that properly developed the oral expression will, in a measure, take care of itself.

Learning to read is simply growing familiar with a vocabulary of written or printed words, but unless each word suggests its appropriate idea it is useless, and unless a word recalls the idea instantly the word is not wholly learned. The method employed in teaching beginners to read can not be given a significant name, because it includes the best points in the word, the sentence, and the phonic methods so called. But all teaching from the blackboard is in script.

During the first year in school, children read many primers and first readers, the number varying according to the respective merits of class and teacher from eight to twelve different books, the aim being to familiarize them with the appearance of ordinary words, most of which are already in their spoken vocabulary. Unfortunately the ideal primer has not yet been written, and children are obliged, for lack of better material, to spend their time on the silly stories of our text books.

But in all grades pupils should have practice in listening, and our little ones can be trained to good habits of attention by listening to the reading of some classic, as well as to be forced into the vicious habit of inattention by the use of senseless stories, thereby weakening the developing intellect. There is nothing stimulating in the inane stories of the primer about "Fan and her doll." Children have more common sense than to like these stories. Their main interest in them lies in the pleasure they derive from recognizing in the printed form words that they already have in their spoken vocabulary.

During the first three grades of the primary course, when the child is familiarizing himself with words in print, every effort should be made to cultivate the taste for noble, wholesome reading.

The lack of motive in the ordinary child's story is a reason for the inattention of the class. While drilling on the short and mostly senseless stories of the reading book the teacher should supply from her own broader knowledge the deficiencies of the books, and from her own resources keep before her class the highest ideals, literary as well as moral. The fable, parable, and myth were of old favorite forms of writing, and children of the present delight in these old stories. These should be given them at an early age, before their enthusiasm for the marvelous has abated, as it will before they are able to read every word aloud, with good expression. In other words, much silent reading should form a part of every school program of every grade. The child will be called upon to do many times as much silent as oral reading, yet the rule in school has been in the past to make oral reading the most important, and to forbid any other books than the reading book of the class.

"There is no one form of literary art so elementary as the fable, and no book so emphatically a child's first book in literature as one which gathers the fables most familiar to the ears of English speaking people." The Fables of Æsop and Wonder Book of Hawthorne always interest the children if given them early enough.

The introduction in 1886 of reading matter to supplement the too scant material of the reading book gave the opportunity to provide for a course in literature to cultivate and elevate the taste of the pupils of our lower schools. Previously all this work had been reserved for the high school course where only about ten per cent. of the pupils could derive benefit from it.

That the course as now pursued helps the children in their understanding and appreciation of the more wholesome class of reading, a visit to the classes will demonstrate.

The course of reading for the present school year is as follows :—

FOURTH YEAR.

Æsop's Fables.

Andersen's Fairy Tales.

[Miss Andrews' Seven Little Sisters, Each and All.]

FIFTH YEAR.

Hawthorne—Wonder Book.

De Foe—Robinson Crusoe.

Longfellow—Children's Hour, Paul Revere's Ride,

Lady Wentworth and other short poems.

SIXTH YEAR.

Kingsley—Water Babies.

Hawthorne—Grandfather's Chair, Tales of the White Hills.

Burroughs—Birds and Bees.

Longfellow—Hiawatha and other poems.

SEVENTH YEAR.

Kingsley—Greek Heroes.

Hawthorne—Biographical Sketches, Twice Told Tales.

Franklin—Autobiography.

[Dickens—Child's History of England.]

Whittier—Snow Bound, Among the Hills, Tent on the Beach.

EIGHTH YEAR.

Irving—Sketch Book.

Longfellow—Miles Standish, Evangeline.

NINTH YEAR.

Scott—Ivanhoe or Kenilworth, Lady of the Lake.

In addition to this course there are several other authors that are read in connection with the history and geography studies.

BOOK-KEEPING.

A very important change has been made this year in the methods of teaching book-keeping. The complaint that our pupils had a very poor idea of business methods, and none at all of how to keep a set of books had some justification in the fact. The vital connection between the imaginary transactions of the book, and the problems of actual business seems never to have been made. To make this connection and to give reality to the work the methods and practice of actual mercantile life have been introduced, and each pupil conducts some kind of business.

Each pupil was started in his chosen line of business with a cash capital of $500 and a certain amount of stock in trade.

Money, check books and the other necessities for business were printed at a small expense, and with these the pupil proceeded to do actual buying and selling, the goods being represented by cards. Receipts were required for all goods sold and paid for, and bills were paid either in cash or by check upon the school bank. In this way almost daily practice was given in the making of bills, checks, notes, drafts etc. Books were balanced each week to give plenty of practice in this part of the work.

This method was put into successful operation last year, by Mr. Boylston of the Walker School, and very ably continued by his successor, Miss Pierce. The results of this preliminary trial were so satisfactory, that in September all the book-keeping classes in the city, including the High School, began the work in this way.

I cannot speak too highly of the quality of the work done this last term by the classes of the Farragut and Haven schools.

The pupils are very enthusiastic, and their excellent understanding of the subject is ample compensation to the teachers for the added work the method causes them.

As our classes now acquire greater proficiency than formerly in Arithmetic before reaching the eighth grade, it seems to me that the forms of single entry might be taught in the eighth, and the subject entirely finished in the ninth grade, removing the study entirely from the High School, whose course of study is, even after careful revision, too crowded with subjects.

GIFTS.

Through the generosity of Storer Post, G. A. R., we are able to display the national flag from every school building within the city, and from the Woodbury suburban school. These provide us with an additional aid in inculcating love of country, that pride in the glory and integrity of our nation that should fill every loyal heart.

The exercises connected with the flag raising last October have been so fully described in the pamphlet issued by the Post that further description is unnecessary.

Several pictures have also been presented to the school by those interested in their welfare. By this thoughtfulness the barren walls of our rooms are gradually assuming an attractive and homelike appearance which cannot fail to exert a healthful moral influence.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. MORSS,

Superintendent of Schools.

HIGH SCHOOL REPORT.

---

To the High School Committee, Portsmouth, N. H.

GENTLEMEN:—For the school year 1889–90, the record of attendance was as follows :—

Whole number enrolled	134
Average number belonging	126
Average daily attendance	121
Per cent. of attendance	96
Number not absent	17
Instances of tardiness	323

The class entering the school in September was so large that our whole number was increased to 152. The number enrolled each year since 1885 shows the necessity for a provision for the better accommodation of the school.

Number enrolled 1885–86,	115
Number enrolled 1886–87,	124
Number enrolled 1887–88,	126
Number enrolled 1888–89,	121
Number enrolled 1889–90,	134
Number enrolled Fall, '90,	152

It is a matter of much regret to those interested in the welfare of the school that the appropriation for remodelling the present building which passed the board of Mayor and Aldermen last spring, failed to pass the Common Council. In consequence of this, classes have been much hampered in their work. The laboratory on the first floor has to be used for recitation purposes. It is very awkwardly arranged for any kind of a class except one in Chemistry, and is insufficiently lighted even for that. It is suitable only for what it was originally built for, an entrance hall to the building.

The last class graduated numbered twenty six, twenty in the full course, and six in the English course of three years. The following is the list :—

CLASS OF 1890.

CLASSICAL COURSE.

Alice Hanscom Conner,
 Grace Louise Hoyt,
 Maria Bishop Jarvis,
 Lilian Atherton Odell,
 Katherine Sweetser,
 Alvah Herman Morrill Curtis,
 Leander Morton Farrington,
 George Nelson Lapham,
 William Edward Marvin.

LATIN COURSE :

Grace Alida Collis,
 Annie Maria Furber,
 Mabel Hodgdon,
 Lillian Ethel Jackson,
 Maude Lavinia Jarvis,
 Sophie Greenleaf Lapham,
 Elizabeth Ella McDonough,
 Mabel Loughton Shedd,
 Etta Littlefield Smith
 Charles Warren Brewster,
 Arthur Fiske Howard.

ENGLISH COURSE, (THREE YEARS.)

Alice Cora Anderson,
 Annette Cartwright,
 Martha March Cutts,
 Mary Agnes Murphy,
 Grace Maud Sampson,
 Richard Edwin Hannaford.

I would recommend the extension of the English course from three to four years. Three years are too short a time for the proper development of the subjects of the course. Although the last revision cut down the number of studies that were taken for one term only, still there are enough subjects now in the course completely to occupy the time of the pupil for four years if taught with fulness. Book-Keeping, Physical Geography, Civil Government, Physiology, Astronomy and Commercial Arithmetic are each given one term. That means for those that happen to come in the short terms of twelve weeks, not over fifty lessons, and generally not much over forty. An adult mind could scarcely expect to accomplish a great amount, in Astronomy for instance, in twelve weeks, and immature minds will do less.

The English course has always been considered as more elementary than either of the other courses in the school, and it seems right to put them all on an equality.

The number of pupils pursuing the different studies during the last term was as follows :—

English Language and Lit.	152
History	110
Composition	152
Drawing	62
Music	152
Physiology	13
Book-Keeping	26
Algebra	65
Geometry	42
Physics	27
Chemistry	22
Botany	19
Latin	97
French	31
Greek	14

Your attention is invited to the following report of the principal of the school.

---

Mr. C. H. Morss, Superintendent of Schools,

DEAR SIR: I take pleasure in submitting the following report:

The changes in the course of study outlined in the last report have been carried into effect as far as existing limitations would permit. The first year is hardly a sufficient test of a new course of study; yet on the whole, it seems to be an improvement. We may be satisfied with the increased attention to English for which it calls, and yet it makes very evident our need of careful and systematic instruction in elocution. Distinct utterance and careful enunciation add much to the charm of conversation, and more attention should be given to this than our present work allows.

It seems to be very popular now-a-days to advocate increasing the number of subjects taught in the public schools. Many who urge this fail to understand that it is not how much, but how well school work is done that will determine the efficiency of the school in developing mind and character. The president of our oldest university has referred to this in the following words: "Few can have failed to note that with the development of our public schools there is a continual tendency to thrust upon the teachers the duties that were once thought to be specially the function of the parent. The training in morals and manners which should be the first care of the parent is now demanded of the teacher. The mother who cannot make her boy "mind" at home now appeals to his teacher. The latter is expected to influence the child to love good books and good company, to cultivate in him habits of personal neatness, to arouse sentiments of humanity, charity, kindness, affection, in fact to do all that the ideal parent could do, and to do it while carrying out an elaborate course of study which would tax to the utmost the powers of an able instructor, all in the hours allotted to school work, with all the possibilities of interruption and diversion which only a practical teacher can understand. The influence of the street and of the hours spent out of school often directly antagonizes the work of the teacher."

The close of the school year in June was marked by an innovation in the character of graduating exercises which seemed to those most concerned an improvement. The inspiring and earnest words spoken on that occasion were in marked contrast to the platitudinous and mechanical essays so frequently heard on similar occasions.

During the year portraits of some of the authors whose works are read in the school have been hung upon the walls of the rooms, and the last graduating class gave as a memorial of the class of '90 a fine engraving, "The Acropolis of Athens."

The advent of a large entering class made the necessity of an addition to the teaching force more apparent than before, and the committee promptly supplied the required assistance.

The successful prosecution of the work is greatly impeded by the lack of sufficient class room accommodations and laboratory facilities. If the same space which the building now affords could be differently arranged a great improvement would be effected.

On the part of a majority of the pupils a gratifying earnestness is plainly evident; the lack of it in others may be accounted for by the time and attention given to social pleasures and other attractions which divert the interest from school work. When these matters are made to assume their true relations to the training of youth we shall more nearly approach ideal development.

Very respectfully,

IRVING H. UPTON.
